A part of the "Gardenville" planting

THE GARDENVILLE BULB GROWERS have been producing bulbs for America's gardens more than twenty years. With several hundred acres of the finest land, in the shadow of the mountain and adjacent to Puget Sound, they have all of Nature's most favorable elements to grow the best bulbs one can buy.

Long experience has aided them in being able to market just the kind of bulbs you want for your garden—large, healthy, free from disease and true-to-name bulbs that will give you no end of satisfaction.

GARDENVILLE bulbs will give you many seasons of satisfaction if properly cared for. Read our special offers and see what a very few dollars can purchase to add lasting beauty to your own garden.

Plant some GARDENVILLE bulbs this Fall* and you will agree with the voluntary expressions of satisfaction that are printed on this page.

Park City, Montana, June 22, 1935

The bulbs we purchased last fall for the Garden club were splendid. The finest, largest bulbs I ever saw and our town never had such a wealth of early blooms before. Look for quite a few neighbors to order this year.

Austin, Texas, June 24, 1935.

For the third year I take great pleasure in placing my order with you.

Eveleth, Minn., June 25, 1935

This is the third bulb order I have had from you and I have always been more than pleased with the bulbs and have directed many to your concern for bulbs and they have also been pleased.

San Francisco, Calif., May 19, 1935

My garden looked beautiful this Spring with its beds of your Tulips and Iris.

Sonora, Calif., March 24, 1935

Cannot tell you how much we have enjoyed the Sulphur Phoenix Daffodils I purchased from you last year.

Philadelphia, Penn., Feb. 13, 1935

I have been intending for some time to write and express my satisfaction and appreciation for the splendid bulbs you shipped last fall.

Yreka, Calif., April 30, 1935

Last fall I sent to you people for some Daffodils—I got 100 bulbs of Madame Plomp for $2.00. I never saw such fine bulbs. Planted them in October—this April every bulb had from one to three blooms on them.

Salem, Oregon, April 8, 1935

The Daffodils have been blooming for some time and I am so pleased with the returns that I want you to know about them. Scarcely a bulb gave less than two blooms and many three and four.

Chaucer (Poeticus). Very early Poeticus, with broad clear white perianth and brilliant red eye. Long stemmed.

Elvira (Poetaz). Creamy-white perianth, yellow cup edged orange.

King Alfred (Yellow Trumpet). The king of the Daffodils. Very large and sturdy rich golden yellow flowers. Curved and fluted trumpet, and broad, beautifully twisted petals. Splendid for cut flowers.

Madame de Graaff (White Trumpet). A lovely graceful daffodil, first of a new class and most famous of the white trumpets. Magnificent snow white perianth, Trumpet slightly tinged with primrose. Strikingly beautiful as a contrast to the rich yellow varieties.

Masterpiece (Barrii). Broad rounded cream-white perianth and a remarkable striking brilliant red-flattened crown. Very beautiful.

Glory of Sassenheim (Bi-color Trumpet). Broad pure white perianth, large and long yellow trumpet with reflexed brim; excellent stem. A favorite both for the garden and for forcing.

Minister Talma (Yellow Trumpet). This giant daffodil of golden yellow has a massive trumpet with a deeply frilled mouth. Forces very early.

Will Scarlet (Incomparabilis). A showy flower with reflexing perianth of creamy white; large open fiery orange-red crown, elegantly crimped.

Conspicuous (Barrii). Broad, spreading perianth of soft yellow, with a wide-mouthed short cup of dark yellow edged bright orange-scarlet. Long stemmed. A great favorite. Splendid for the border or naturalizing.

Empress (Bi-color Trumpet). Large rich yellow trumpet: white perianth. Striking as a border or naturalizing group when combined with all-yellow daffodils.

Golden Spur (Yellow Trumpet). Early. Rich yellow perianth and trumpet. A most popular daffodil for forcing in the house or for the garden.

Madame Plemp (Bi-color Trumpet). A stately lady with deep golden yellow trumpet set off with an array of pure white petals. Beautiful as a cut flower.

Recurvus (Poeticus). The old Pheasant's Eye. Perianth pure white, somewhat reflexing; cup margined deep scarlet. Very fragrant. One of the latest to bloom.

Sir Watkin (Incomparabilis). Perianth primrose-yellow, large and well-formed deep yellow cup. Long stemmed. A giant among the medium-crowned varieties.

Sulphur Phoenix (Double). Large creamy-white flowers with pale yellow center. Shaped like a rose. Prized for cutting.

Glory of Leiden (Yellow Trumpet). A large flower with a trumpet of rich full yellow; perianth pale yellow, sometimes with deeper yellow markings.

Mrs. Langtry (Leedsii). A graceful flower with perianth of pure white and short cup of pale primrose. A very free bloomer, long stemmed, and valuable for bedding or to naturalize.

Narcissus and Daffodils. A splendid mixture.

Narcissus—King Alfred

St. James' Church
Rev. H. N. Tragitt, Jr., Rector
Dillon, Montana

I have not so far thanked you for the excellent bulbs you sent me last fall. The rectory has been gay since January 1 with pots and bowls of Daffodils, first the Golden Spur, now the Elvira, and shortly the Victoria. I have never seen anything that gives the satisfaction that the poetaz Elvira invariably does. All that is necessary is to plant in bowls of pebbles and water in September, leave in the root cellar until January, and bring up to the light as wanted. It is so suited to house culture and so superior to the paper whites that I wonder that more don't use it. Mine this year have been the best ever.

DUTCH AND SPANISH IRIS

Spanish Iris are among the prettiest of all Spring flowers for cutting and garden decoration, and are orchid-like in their beauty of form and color.

Dutch Iris are similar to the Spanish but are larger and bloom a little earlier.

Unlike the German or Bearded Iris, both Spanish and Dutch Iris are grown from bulbs, not roots, and should be planted early in the fall. They are easily grown and will do well either in full sun or partial shade.
